

I work like mischief for us In her article in next Lucifer.
She is a great acquaintance.
I have finished my Key to Theosophy my 1st series of Payments for the book of the Golden Precepts "The voice of the Silence." Annie Besant says it ought to be published in letters of gold & even Simnett's eyes sparkled when he read it.
He said it was very beautiful.
It will be ready for sale in about a month.

Oh how I wish you were here my dear fellow - Wido and men. Answer me when you will be able to come. Unmovable translate the man your can truly G.P.S.

Dear Ned,
Are you ready?
Will you cast your bread upon the waters and come for your vacations here and then stay with us as old stays now?
To work, work, work, with us & for us and against our enemies?
The Countess told me you agreed with her how much it will be.
I want it to be more. Now we receive daily money for the E.S.
& there will be enough to guarantee a year. (Old has received his year's pay in advance.)

My dear boy, I am almost heart broken for the Society with this persecution. Not for myself I swear; but I see their object, to discredit me in such a way that when I lean you my memory will be almost discredited & the S. S. ^{will} ever suffer from this. Will you help me to fight them off?
I ask in the name of theosophy in the name of Master & in my own humble name. We want men who have hearts & pluck & devotion. Poor Wright is so shaky that he may go off any day. Coulton has almost ruined

The poor ^{weak} fellow, and now he sleeps till 11:00 comes in at three 3 P.M. & leads a strange life.
"How do I know that the Masters exist?" he asked old today, when I sent him to say I would not hold with such a thing in the E.S. There are Coulton's words.

When can you be free? The sooner the better. In the name of the Cause I ask you to hurry.

Yes, I wish you would translate Sergio's dream for Lucifer Do; & make foot-note & remarks upon passages. Annie Besant is not only a theosophist but she has joined (with Thurrow) the E.S.